Woman and Society

Miss Margaret Rose Smith of Bristol, Va., will arrive in the city sometime this week to be the guest of Mrs. J. A. Martin for several weeks.

Mrs. C. M. Sherrill Entertains.

One of the most elaborate affairs of the season in Hickory society was the bridge-luncheon given yesterday morning when Mrs. C. M. Sherrill entertained at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. D. Elliott, in compliment to Mrs. W. S. Martin of Canton, who is the guest of Mrs. George R. Wooten. Hand-painted score cards of autumn leaves were distributed by means of which the guests found their places. For making the top score, Mrs. J. C. Shuford was awarded the prize, a box of correspondence cards and the guest of honor was presented with a pair of silk hose. At the close of the game, the guests were invited into the dining room which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, autumn flowers being used in great profusion, the color scheme being yellow. The large mahogany table was beautiful with Florentine mats, the center-piece being a gold basket tied with yellow Maline and filled with dahlias. Here a delicious luncheon was served, the color scheme being carried throughout the five courses. Twelve guests enjoyed Mrs. Sherrill's hospitality.

Mr. Sigmon Entertains Snifts.

Last evening Mr. Orin Sigmon was host to the Snifty Bunch and several guests at the home of Miss Kate Elliott. Five hundred was played at three tables. The highest score entitled Mr. Frank McCombes to a deck of cards. After the game the cards were removed and a salad course with mints was served. Those playing were Misses Johnston, Sourber, Allen, Taylor, Abernethy, Jones and Messrs. Martin, Costner, Cilley, McCombs, Sigmon and Boyden of China Grove.

With Mrs. F. A. Abernethy.

Mrs. F. P. Abernethy won the prize for making the top score yesterday afternoon when Mrs. F. A. Abernethy entertained the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge Club. Auction was played at three tables. A salad course and mints were served at the close of the game. Those playing were Mesdames F. A. Henderson, R. A. Grimes, J. H. P. Cilley, Walter Lyster, F. P. Abernethy, E. L. Shuford, J. H. Hatcher, J. C. Shuford, E. Chadwick, W. J. Shuford and Misses Ada Schenck and Ruth Abernethy.

Miss Johnston Entertains.

Miss Adelaide Johnston was hostess to the Five W's Club yesterday afternoon, at which time an important business meeting was held. The books were decided upon and it was also decided to change the meeting from once a week to once every two weeks. A delicious salad course was served by the hostess at the close of the meeting. Miss Adele Kirkpatrick will have the next meeting of the club.

ON CONTROL OF CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

As the school's responsibility in the distribution of contagious diseases in any county or community is great, so is the opportunity of the school to control contagious diseases in a county or community likewise great. Therefore upon the schools of Catawba county will fall their proportionate part of the responsibility in the movement now on to control contagious diseases in this county during the present school year.

Whooping cough, measles, scarlet fever and diphtheria are germ diseases, therefore they are contagious. The infection is contained mainly in the secretions of the throat, nose and mouth and is usually spread by the personal exchange of this secretion. At school children swap saliva or mouth secretions by biting the same pencils and exchanging food, by using the same drinking cup or dipper, by gnawing book corners and papers and by various other means. Coughing and sneezing without holding a handkerchief in front of the nose and mouth and careless spitting are other ways in which infection is conveyed. A person who coughs and sneezes without shielding his mouth and nose with a cloth or handkerchief emits a fine spray of secretion into the air which circulates freely all over the room. Tiny droplets of secretion have been known to circulate 50 yards from the person who coughed or sneezed them out. These settle on the desks and furniture and find their way to the hands and clothes and finally to the mouths of others.

The school's obligation in this matter of control of contagious diseases is first educational, and second, the compliance with the law relative to the control. The rules and regulations adopted by the Catawba county board of health call for the faithful co-operation of every school teacher or principal. The principal or teacher informs the public through the school children of the existence of a contagious disease in the community and instructs the children as to the danger and mode of contracting it and the means of preventing its spread. He sends literature furnished him by the quarantine officer, the teacher sends a list or all the children attending school to the officer having indicated on the list those who have had any one or more of the contagious diseases and those who have not. By this means the quarantine officer knows the immunity or the susceptibility of the school to contagious diseases. By knowing to what extent the school is susceptible to an outbreak of a certain contagious disease, the officer will know what steps to take to meet most effectively the demands of any situation connected with the school.

By the co-operation of the teacher with the quarantine officer or his compliance with the rules and regulations of the country's quarantine law, the spread of contagious diseases in the school can be kept at the minimum. To put it differently, there should be no loss of time on the part of the school as a whole on account of contagious diseases and only a minimum loss of time on the part of individual pupils. Not for four years has any school of New York city had to close on account of an outbreak of contagious disease.

LOOKS GOOD FOR SELF

Newton, Oct. 14.—A lawyer conversant with politics among the legal fraternity in Durham and Raleigh brings heartening reports to Catawba relative to the chances of W. A. Self in those cities, as a candidate for attorney general. If he has his facts on straight, a majority of the lawyers in the two places incline toward Mr. Self's political friends and backers here receive encouraging reports from other sections of the state. They feel confident their candidate will win. During the coming session of superior court it is planned to set Mr. Self before the public in an official way. The county bar will give him a send-off.

To Sell At Once

The St. Paul Academy and the beautiful residence lots surrounding it are to be sold at once. The present owner expected to convert the Academy into a tourist hotel, but ill health forces the sale of the property at once.

That elegant most beautifully located residence on the corner, 8-room, slate roof, with 90 feet front by 300 feet back, now occupied by Mr. Mesick, $4,000, with $6,000. Must be sold immediately.
